Dear Colonel Smith

I am answering your M.I. 10/DO/KS/51 of 16th August 1951
as David Evans is at the moment in hospital.

I think the suggestion in your last paragraph is the best thing we can do. Darcy is a most difficult person to understand even if you can hear him; I in fact can never do either.

Yours sincerely

16th August, 1951.

Dear David,

9A

Your STIB/7003/1/1559 of the 10th August, 1951, has just arrived. I am distressed to feel that my comments on the conversation with Lerette and Darcy are having international repercussions!

David Birch heard the opening part of the conversation with Lerette, but was unfortunately talking to another American officer (whose name I did not record) at the time I was talking to Darcy.

The notes which I took of the conversation were made as we talked and not written up afterwards, so I find it impossible to modify the impression with which I went away, unless I had got hold of entirely the wrong end of the stick!

I would like to make the point that I did not take the comments as being in any way a "complaint", but as an explanation of U.S. views, which were slightly at variance with those of the U.K.

Would it not be best to assume that I have misinterpreted the remarks, unless or until some future "visitor" can be briefed to lead the conversation into the same channels?

Yours

*Sincerely yours
Fernando J. Smith*

TOP SECRET GUARD

10 August, 1951

Thank you for your letter of 25th July, 1951, concerning your conversation in BERLIN with Lt. Col. LEPETTE and Mr. DARGY. Both HORNER and myself have since had an opportunity of raising the matter casually with DARGY, who has given an altogether different account of his conversation with you. Since DARGY's account confirms what we know he was worried about, I would very much like to know if there is a possibility that you have misinterpreted the remarks which were made.

According to DARGY, he discussed the "DRAGON RETURN" programme with you, briefly confirming their identity of thought and action with us on the lines of what you set out in your second paragraph apart from your (i) and (ii). He says that he then went on to complain bitterly of an American programme to recruit German scientists and technicians in the Russian Zone in large numbers for work in AMERICA; this particular programme could well have the most serious effects on the "DRAGON RETURN" programme and is a cause of concern to both British and American intelligence agencies in Germany. This programme is now being vigorously pursued in the Western Zones, and your (i) and (ii), particularly the latter, would seem to fit into the context of such a complaint. DARGY had been hoping that the British might be able to take up this U.S. Army programme, over which he has no control, with American authorities in WASHINGTON.

I should like to be assured that what DARGY says to us is the same as what he would say to you or to other visitors, and I would, therefore, be glad if you could recall whether this was the substance of his complaint to you. He is, of course, rather difficult to understand, which might well add to the confusion. You will appreciate that there has been no question of our taxing him with complaining to you and that his account of your conversation is quite spontaneous.

Dear David,

101700..

1. In reply to your letter STIB/7003/1/1242 dated 20th July, 1951, the question of "Dragon Return" was raised in the first instance by Lt. Col. Lerette, who said he felt that the British were taking too many low grade scientists, and that the figures were of the order of U.K. 100 to U.S. 20.
2. Lerette then called in Mr. d'Arcy to explain to me in more detail the U.S. views on the matter - d'Arcy proposed the following policy:-

(i) That only a small percentage of returning scientists should be taken for interrogation. To do this, an analysis should be made giving the names and positions recently held by all returnees, and from this a list of "key" men should be prepared.

U.S./U.K. should co-ordinate the selection of scientists from this list in order to obtain essential information, and the names of other "key" men for whom to look out in order to fill in the gaps.

U.S. reasons for thinking that too many lower grade men were being brought into "Dragon Return" were:

- (i) that the Russians might prevent the return of further batches if they knew that their information was being exploited;
- (ii) that German Universities in the Western Zone might well raise the loss of the services of their scientists as a political issue.

3. Horner told me that only six chemists had returned during the last six months and that only about 5% were taken for interrogation. He put the UK/US rates of interrogation at about 9 or 10 to 1, and said he considered that this disparity was due more to the U.S. organisation being less effective in making contact with the returnees than to any desire on their part to limit the numbers interrogated!

4. I'm afraid this is the best I can do from the very brief notes which I took, but hope the comments will be of some help to you.

Yours sincerely
Kenneth S. Smith

David Birch tells me that when you were in Berlin, the American equivalent of John Horner, one Darcey, complained in a private conversation about the number of "DRAGON RETURN" cases being handled by the British. David thinks that you took a note of this conversation.

There is, as you know, quite close collaboration between us on "DRAGON RETURN" operational matters including joint agreement on the actual cases to be followed up. What interested me most in David Birch's account of your conversation was that Darcey apparently quoted figures totally at variance with actual facts. There are so many sets of figures flying around that I could probably recognise who was inciting Darcey if you have taken a note of what he actually said.

Anglo-American relations are very complicated here owing to the strained relationships between the competing American bodies. If you can let me have an account of the conversation, I will try to get this particular one straightened out quickly.

Subject: Operation "DRAGON RETURN"

Attached is the "DRAGON RETURN" Analysis at 23rd May, 1951.

2. You will notice that a significant number of cases have been taken out of the "Proceeding" column. This mostly results from the exploitation of cases now completed where good target coverage has been given, allowing us to be more selective in our effort.

3. I am now showing U.S. cases separately.
